Community Pantry Day #6

It was a cool and rainy day on Feb 6 as volunteers scurried about to set up Pantry Day #6. The weather may have been gloomy, but spirits were high in anticipation of all the guest who were expected to be the recipients of free produce and other food items on hand. Available were cabbage, carrots, onions, eggplants, mangos, canned goods and meats. As an added gift there were large size souvenir Baltimore Oriole/Coca Cola cups being given away. As usual the many recipients were very grateful and expressed their gratitude with hugs, smiles and thank yous.

The experience of being able to help someone is very rewarding. The many volunteers that come out for each Pantry Day could be anywhere else doing other things with their time. But they chose to be at St Mark. This is stewardship at it's best. Thank you volunteers for your service.

Many thanks to our coordinators Ramona Burnett of St Mark and Diana Taylor, AACO Partnership for Children, Youth and Families and thanks to the Maryland Food Bank.

Surprise, Surprise!

On February 13, the UMW decided to forego their usual business meeting and opt instead to throw a surprise baby shower for member Eliesha Brooks. Eliesha and her spouse Ronald (at the time of this article) were expecting their first born in March 2020. The food was great and the gifts were bountiful and beautiful.

Girl Scout Sunday, March 8

The young ladies of Girl Scout Troop 2638 stood with pride as they were given certificates for participating in worship service and demonstrating their faith. The smiles on their faces said it all. The troop is constant in their quest to conduct outreach activities in the community and faithfully live up to the Girl Scout Promise and the Girl Scout Law. Their current community service project is to collect basic toiletries to be distribute to families through The Shelter Diversion Program. Many family members and friends were in attendance to support the young ladies. Troop Leader Kimberly Jenkins and Co-Leader Rhonda Caldwell-Dove presided over the ceremony. The Girl Scouts along with their family and friends were called to the altar for a special prayer given by Troop Leader Jenkins.

Hebron Family Pay Homage to Family Matriarch, March 8

It was a day to celebrate as members of the Hebron family came together to remember and pay homage to Mabel Simms Hebron-Cook, family Matriarch. Hebron-Cook was born in 1889 and passed away in 1996. On March 17 she would have been 131 years old.

Nikki Handy, who is the great granddaughter of Hebron-Cook introduced guest speaker, Pastor Devan A. Hebron of A New Life

Church of Christ. Pastor Hebron is the great grandson of Hebron-Cook. His sermon placed emphasis on what one might miss when not attending church. He pointed out that when you fail to attend church you miss fellowship and the presence of Jesus. You also miss the message, the full effect of the message and you miss God's power.

Representing the Hebron family, Catrina Hebron-Hogue, great granddaughter of Hebron-Cook, presented to St Mark a monetary gift, which was gratefully accepted by Pastor Herbert W. Watson Jr.

Women's History Month - March 2020 - Saluting Rosa Parks

The Library of Congress presents: 'Rosa Parks: In Her Own Words' The Real Person Behind The Icon.

The collection includes Park's personal correspondence, letters from presidents, her writings from the time of the Montgomery Bus Boycott, thousands of photographs, her Presidential Medal of Freedom and Congressional Gold Medal.

Rosa Parks is best remembered as the African American woman who refused to give up her seat on a bus to a white man. It was 1955 in the segregated South and the start of the Montgomery bus boycott. That moment made her the face of the civil rights movement - but there was much more to her than that single act of defiance. As a young girl in Alabama in the 1920s, Parks often stayed up all night, helping her grandfather Sylvester Edwards keep watch. In the years after World War I, the Ku Klux Klan rode throughout black communities, terrorizing families, burning churches and homes.

The two wanted to be prepared, so her grandfather "always had his shotgun within hand's reach," Parks wrote when she was 6 or 7. "I wanted to see him kill a Ku-Kluxer. He declared the first to invade our home would surely die." This handwritten note is among the documents, photos and heirlooms such as her family's Bible now on display. The exhibit aims to reveal the real person behind the civil rights icon known by many only as a demure seamstress.

This exhibit was planned to be at the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. , through September 7, 2020. However it has been temporarily closed due to COVID -19. For updates go to <https://www.loc.gov/events>.

To celebrate Black History month St Markers deemed Sunday February 15 to be Heritage Sunday. The congregation and choir dressed in festive attire representing their heritage. Music rendered by the choir was reminiscent of old Negro spirituals.

Richard and Carla Quamina shared a short narrative about their native country Trinidad, where many residents are descendants of Western Africa.

Pastor Watson reminded each of us to honor our ancestors and remember their contributions to this nation and how they paved the way for our freedom with their blood, sweat and tears.
